

CALIFORNIA COMMON CORE CURRICULA

GUIDELINES FOR CITATION

How to Cite the California Common Core Curricula for Child Welfare Workers or the California Common Core Curricula for Child Welfare Supervisors

The California Common Core Curricula for Child Welfare Workers is funded by the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) and administered by CalSWEC, using federal IV-E funds. Its central purpose is to provide the statewide, standardized training for new child welfare workers and new child welfare supervisors as mandated by state regulation. The curricula is also intended for public use, to be distributed widely and at no cost, providing that proper citation is noted, as indicated:

1. Use of the curriculum in unmodified form must be cited as follows:

California Social Work Education Center (Ed.). (Insert year). (Insert title of the specific curriculum), California Common Core Curricula for (insert either Child Welfare Workers or Child Welfare Supervisors). Berkeley, CA: California Social Work Education Center.

2. Use of the curriculum after any modification by an entity not subject to the State of California's mandated requirement for statewide standardized training must be cited by placing the following text at the top of the first page of the modified curriculum:

“This curriculum is based on the curriculum cited below, but has been modified. CalSWEC is not responsible for modifications to the curriculum. For more information, or access to the original CalSWEC curriculum, visit the CalSWEC website at <http://calswec.berkeley.edu>, or call 510-642-9272.

California Social Work Education Center (Ed.). (Insert Year). (Insert title of the specific curriculum), California Core Curricula for (insert either Child Welfare Workers or Child Welfare Supervisors). Berkeley, CA: California Social Work Education Center.”

Questions regarding usage of the curricula should be addressed to CalSWEC. Contact CalSWEC at calswec_rta_cc@berkeley.edu or call CalSWEC at 510-642-9272.
